

I would like to indicate my support for the portability of cell phone numbers. As a consumer I should be able to switch between wireless carriers and retain my number. Cell phones are becoming the "wired" phones of our age and as such should have the same portability rules.